Does anyone here work with chocolate? If so, please post your cookery tips - I'm sure everyone would appreciate it :cheer:

Also, do you ever get fed up with it? :ohmy:

Hi, I am a new member and I work with chocolate. I have made and sold handmade chocolates on the web for about 10 years. Not one of the 'big boys', strictly small scale.

It is a great line of work - apart from Christmas, Valentines, Easter etc etc

Only kidding, being a cottage industry can cause problems, I think people look at my website and think we are a lot bigger than we actually are, Cadbury's we aint (so to speak).

Sorry have a queue of people in line as tasters, keep you in mind though
